chairman of the board

paul e. gaston

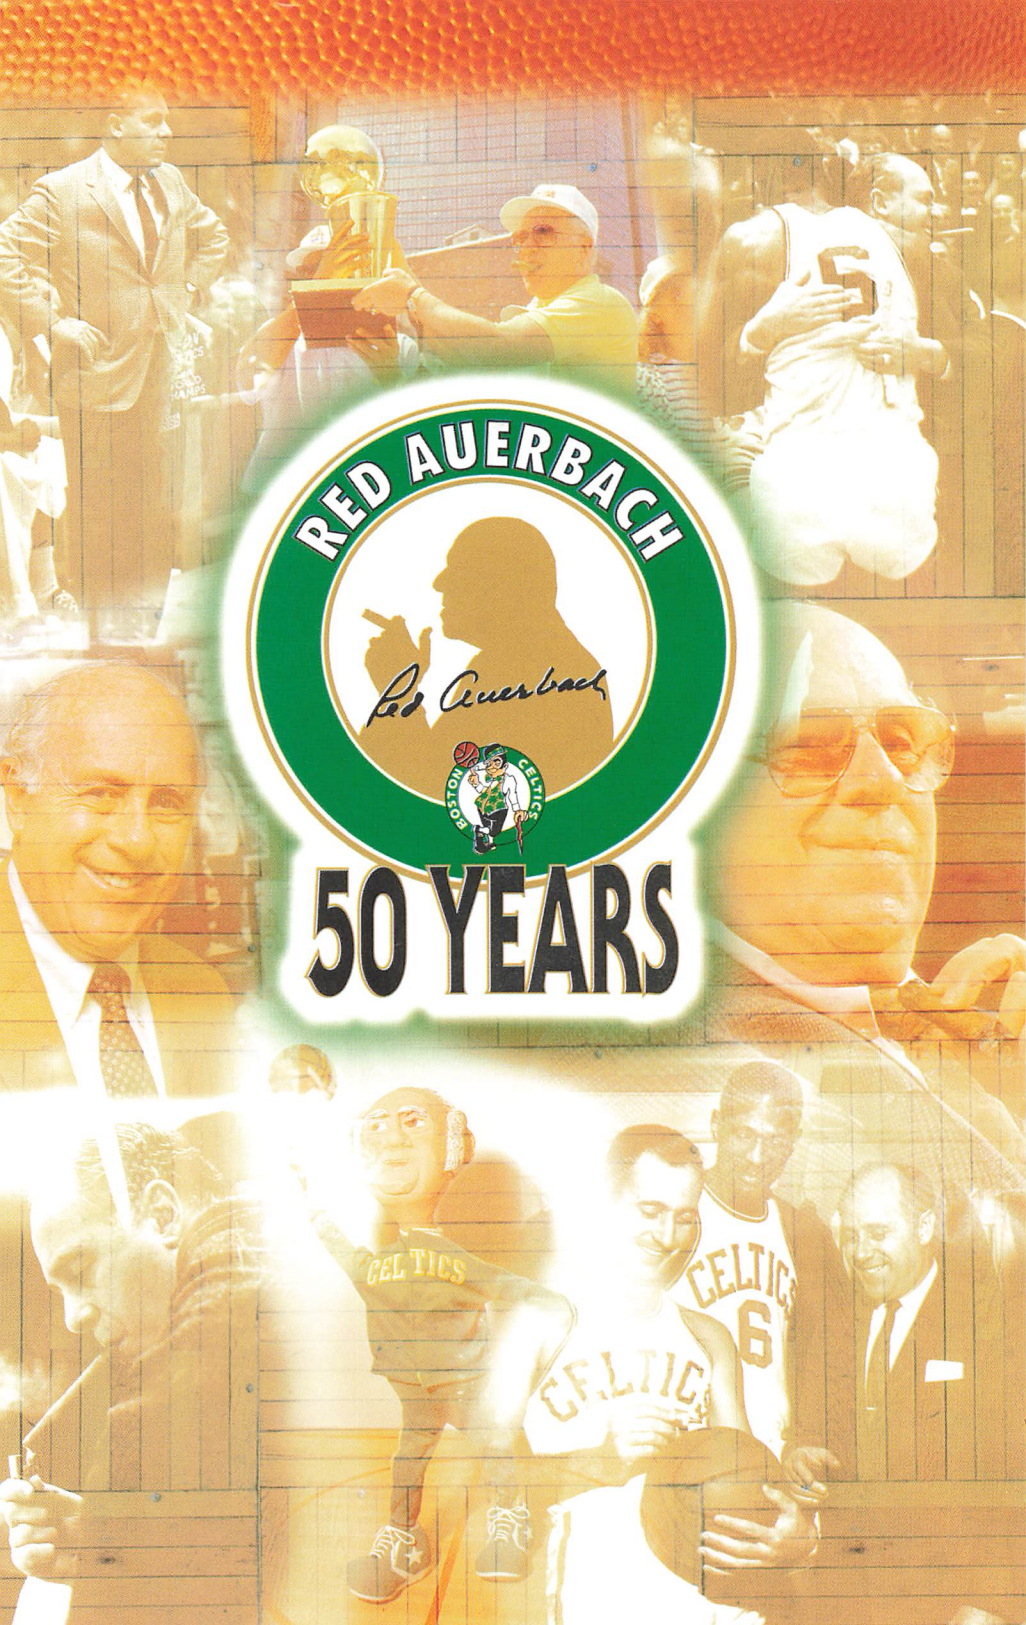

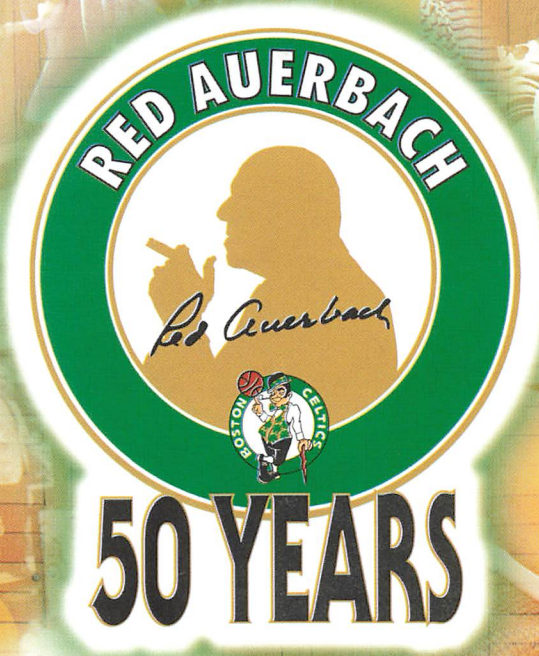

The Boston Celtics' Chairman of the Board is Paul E. Gaston. Mr. Gaston has been Chairman of the Celtics' parent company, Boston Celtics Limited Partnership, since 1992.

Originally from Houston, Texas, Mr. Gaston grew up in Greenwich, Connecticut where he attended Brunswick School. Mr. Gaston received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, having attended the University of London for a year as an undergraduate.

In the 1970's, Mr. Gaston raced Professional Motocross in AMA National Championship events. Mr. Gaston began his business career in London working in financial advertising and public relations. For the decade prior to his appointment with the Celtics, Mr. Gaston has been President of Brookwood Investments, a New York-based firm with a diverse portfolio of interests.

Mr. Gaston is married to the former Dana Halsey. They have three children: twin sons John and Peter, and daughter Sarah.

vice-chairman of the board

red auerbach

Arnold "Red" Auerbach once proclaimed: "The Boston Celtics are not a basketball team, they are a way of life." Auerbach, a member of the National Basketball Association since its formation in 1946, has been with the Celtics since 1950. He, like the Celtics, is a way of life.

The 1999-2000 season will mark Red's 50th as a member of the Boston Celtics family.

Auerbach was promoted from team President to his current position as Vice Chairman of the Board of the Boston Celtics on May 8, 1997.

Auerbach spent the first three seasons of his pro career with the Washington Capitols before moving on to the Tri-Cities Hawks for one campaign. At this point, Walter Brown, who owned the struggling Boston Celtics, appointed Auerbach as the man to lead the squad into what would become the greatest franchise in pro basketball annals.

Auerbach carefully crafted a competitive team and his moves culminated with an April 29, 1956 transaction that sent Ed Macauley and Cliff Hagan to St. Louis for the Hawks first-round pick, the Celtics chose Bill Russell. This blockbuster trade would spur the Celtics into the most dominant franchise in pro basketball history and helped spawn the legend that is Auerbach and the Celtics. From 1950-1966, Auerbach coached the Celtics to nine world titles including eight in succession from 1959-1966.

His incredible record was 938-479 (.662) in regular season play and an equally impressive 99-69 (.589) in postseason encounters. Starting with the 1966-67 season, the "coach" removed himself from the bench in order to concentrate on his duties as General Manager and appointed Bill Russell as player-coach.

With Red's guidance and knowledge, the Celtics continued to win. In 1968 and 1969, the Celtics added two more titles. But after a down period in the early 1970's, Auerbach restructured the team adding key personnel through trades and the draft, and ultimately raised banners in 1974 and 1976. It was after these years that Auerbach would have his toughest test, as the late 70's were a dismal period for the Celtics. Yet, Auerbach once again saved the franchise with the shrewd selection of Larry Bird in the 1978 draft. Although he would have to wait a year before Bird could play in the NBA, Auerbach sensed that the Indiana native was the man to rejuvenate the proud organization. Five other teams had a shot at Bird, but all passed.

In 1981, Boston became the NBA champions again as Auerbach orchestrated another amazing trade, as he dealt the first and thirteenth picks in the 1981 draft to Golden State for Robert Parish and the third overall pick (Kevin McHale). Boston added titles in 1984 and 1986 thanks to the master's keen additions of Danny Ainge, Dennis Johnson, Bill Walton and others.

Auerbach has been the recipient of numerous distinguished awards and honors throughout his career. In 1968, he was enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA for all his successes. When the NBA chose its Silver Anniversary Team honoring the best of the league's first 25 years, Red was chosen as coach of that distinguished team. In 1982, he was elected to the Washington Hall of Stars, a Hall of Fame which involves people from all sports. Red was also honored as NBA Coach of the Year in 1965, a trophy that now bears his name, and NBA Executive of the Year in 1980. Also, in that year, he was selected to the NBA's 35th Anniversary Team as "Greatest Coach in the History of the NBA," by the PBWAA.

In 1985, The Red Auerbach Fund, the establishment of a fund in the great coach's name, was created to promote athletic, recreational and other youth development activities in Boston and throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. January 4, 1985 will always be a special day in Red's heart and in Boston sports history as the Celtics' family saluted its patriarch by having the number "2" retired in his honor (emblematic as the second most influential person in the organization's annals; similarly, the number "1" is dedicated to the team's founder Walter Brown). On Red's 68th birthday, September 20, 1985, a life-size sculpture of Auerbach was unveiled and placed in Boston's notorious Faneuil Hall Marketplace so the public would have a lasting tribute to this basketball genius and legend.

He has received seven honorary degrees from various institutions. Red values such honors so much that he kept a previous commitment to American International College by delivering their commencement speech although it required him to be a no-show in the Boston Garden for the May 22, 1988 deciding game in the Celtics-Hawks best-of-seven thriller. AIC presented Auerbach with a Doctor of Humanities Honorary Degree. A week earlier, May 15, he received a Doctor of Arts Honorary Degree from Stonehill College. He has also received Honorary Doctorate Degrees in Humane Letters from Franklin Pierce College May 24, 1981, the University of Massachusetts (Boston) in 1982, and from Boston University May 13, 1984. In 1986, Central New England College honored him with an Honorary Doctorate Degree in Business Administration. February 14, 1993, his alma mater, George Washington, bestowed an honorary Doctorate of Public Service Degree. On June 9, 1998, George Washington University celebrated Red's 80th birthday by unveiling a plaque and a bust of the legendary coach. This tribute is permanently attached to the exterior of the Smith Center, GW's athletic facility.

Red is the author of five books. His first, Basketball for the Player, the Fan and Coach, has been translated into seven languages and is the largest-selling basketball book in print. His second book, Winning the Hard Way, was co-authored with Paul Sann. Then came a pair of publications written in conjunction with Joe Fitzgerald, Red Auerbach: An Autobiography and Red Auerbach On and Off the Court. In October, 1991, Auerbach's latest book, M.B.A.: Management by Auerbach was co-authored with Ken Dooley. In 1987, an excellent instructional video entitled "Winning Basketball" became available to the public featuring the insight, thoughts and philosophy of Red and three-time NBA Most Valuable Player and Celtics' captain Larry Bird.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, Red attended Eastern District High School in that city, and attended Seth Low Junior College in New York and George Washington University in the District of Columbia. He played three years of college basketball at GW, and was the team's leading scorer and defensive specialist. He received a Bachelor of Science in Education in 1940 from GW and a Master of Arts in Education from GW the following year.

Red (9/20/17) and his wife Dorothy live in Washington, D.C. The couple, married since 1941, are the proud parents of two daughters, Nancy, who is married to CNN anchorman Reid Collins, and Randy, who is Vice-President of Creative Affairs for Blue Tulip Productions in Hollywood. Red and Dorothy have one granddaughter, Julie, a housewife and student at GW, who is married to Eric Fleiger. Red and Dorothy have a great-grandson Peter Auerbach Fleiger and a great-granddaughter Hope Fleiger.

When Rick Pitino was named the 13th Head Coach of the Boston Celtics, he vowed to work harder than Red Auerbach has ever seen any individual work to bring the Celtics back to the championship level. This type of determination and dedication epitomizes Pitino's coaching career and is reflected in the relentless efforts put forth by his teams.

Pitino begins his third season as President/Head Coach of the Boston Celtics. He has guided Boston to a 55-77 record over his first two years. Pitino coached the Celtics to a 19-31 record during the shortened 1998-99 campaign.

Pitino's first season began with a thrilling 92-85 season-opening win over the defending NBA Champion Chicago Bulls and culminated with a 21-win improvement over the previous season (2nd greatest turnaround in the team's 51 year history).

Previous to coming to the Celtics, Pitino spent eight years (1989-97) as Head Basketball Coach at the University of Kentucky. During his tenure at Kentucky, Pitino's teams amassed a 219-50 record and made three Final Four appearances in five years. The Wildcats won a National Championship in 1996 and posted a runner-up finish in the 1997 National Championship game.

Before going to Kentucky, Pitino served a two-year stint as Head Coach of the New York Knicks. In 1987-88 the Knicks recorded a 14-win improvement over the previous year and made the NBA Playoffs for the first time in four seasons. New York won 52 games in 1988-89 and swept the Philadelphia 76ers in the first round of the NBA Playoffs.

He was Head Coach for Providence College for two seasons (1985-87) where he guided the Friars to an NIT bid in 1986 and a trip to the NCAA Final Four in 1987. Overall, the Friars were 42-23 under Pitino.

Pitino's first NBA experience came as an assistant coach for the New York Knicks from 1983-85. He credits much of his success to mentors such as Hubie Brown who was Head Coach of the Knicks during that period of time.

Pitino began his head coaching career at Boston University from 1978-83 where the Terriers went 91-51 overall. In 1983 he led BU into NCAA post-season play for the first time in twenty-four years.

From 1976-78 Pitino served as an assistant at Syracuse University under Jim Boeheim — the coach he defeated to win the 1996 National Championship. Prior to Syracuse, his coaching career began in 1974 as a graduate assistant at the University of Hawaii and as a full-time assistant for the Rainbows in 1975-76.

Pitino had the best winning percentage among active coaches in NCAA Tournament play with a 78.8% (26-7) mark, at the time he left Kentucky. Pitino is one of only eleven coaches all-time to guide two different teams to the NCAA Final Four. He also holds the distinction of being one of twelve coaches all-time to reach the Final Four on four separate occasions. Overall, Pitino has a Head Coaching record of 497-275 (64.4 %) in 19 years at both the collegiate and professional levels.

He graduated from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, where he was a starting guard for two years and team captain his senior year. Pitino had 329 career assists, which ranks as 7th best on the all-time UMass list. He also has the 6th highest single-season assist total with 168. As a freshman with the Minutemen, Pitino was teammates with NBA legend Julius Erving.

A native of New York City, Pitino attended St. Dominic's High School in Oyster Bay, Long Island, where he captained the basketball team and broke several scoring records.

Rick and his wife, Joanne, have five children — Michael 21, Christopher 19, Richard 17, Ryan 9, and Jacqueline 7.

general manager

One of the foremost evaluators of basketball talent, Chris Wallace enters his third season as General Manager of the Boston Celtics.

Wallace has been instrumental in the formation of the young and talented Celtics roster with a number of trades, free agent signings and solid draft choices. His basketball expertise and savvy will continue to be critical to the future development of the franchise. "We're going to look under every stone worldwide to come up with players who can win for Rick Pitino," said Wallace.

Celtics President/Head Coach Rick Pitino regards Wallace as "someone who feels very comfortable going over to Europe and dealing with European agents, in dealing with CBA — someone who has a great knowledge of current players in the NBA, who has vast knowledge of high school basketball players."

Wallace was Director of Player Personnel for the Miami Heat before coming to Boston. The Heat won a franchise-record 61 games in 1996-97 and Wallace is credited with discovering many of the Heat's players. His responsibilities included college and international scouting and searching for potential talent in the CBA as well as the NBA. marketing consultant

bob cousy

Commending with the 1999-2000 season, Bob Cousy will be working directly with the team as a marketing consultant. In addition, he will make occasional appearances on FOX Sports Net New England as an analyst during Celtics' games.

A fixture with the Green and White, the legend provided one of the most famous moments in basketball annals on March 17, 1963. During "Bob Cousy Day" held at Boston Garden, Cousy, trying to compose himself while giving an emotional speech, was honored in a very unique way as an awkward, almost tense, silence was broken when a fan in the Garden's upper balcony yelled an immediate classic: "We love ya, Cooz!"

For thirteen years, "the Houdini of the Hardwoods" was a dominant force in the league as he created a national stir in a sport suffering from minimum recognition in its infantile stages. He is the mold to which contemporary great point guards are compared. Bob was the leader of the Celtics' famous fast break and during his tenure from 1950-1963 was a member of six World Champions and 13 All-Star berths. The recipient of many honors, Bob was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1970 and was named to the NBA's 25th Anniversary Team in 1970 and the league's 35th Anniversary Team in 1980. Among his many awards, league MVP in 1957, All-NBA First Team for ten straight years from 1952-1961, All-NBA Second Team twice (1962 and 1963), and the NBA All-Star Game MVP in 1954 and 1957. Bob led the NBA in assists eight times; in fact, for eight consecutive seasons ranging from 1953-1960.

In 924 regular season games, Cousy averaged 18.4 points, 7.5 assists, and 5.2 rebounds. In 109 postseason encounters, he collected 18.5 points, 8.6 assists, and 5.0 rebounds. He still owns the NBA single-game playoff records for most free throws made (30) and attempted (32) in a game against Syracuse played March 21, 1953.

He has been broadcasting Celtics' basketball since the 1974-75 season.

Born in New York, NY, he attended high school at Andrew Jackson in Queens and played four years of college ball at Holy Cross from 1946-1950 where he was a member of the 1947 NCAA Champions. Bob was drafted by the Tri-Cities Hawks in 1950, traded to the Chicago Stags for Gene Vance that same year, then became a Celtic (for $8,500, name drawn out of a hat) when the Stags' franchise folded.

After his incomparable playing career, Cousy served as a head coach in the collegiate and professional ranks. Commencing with the 1963-64 season and continuing through the 1968-69 campaign, Bob was the head coach at Boston College where his squads put together a successful stretch that included winning percentages of better than 80% in three of his final four seasons. Overall, those BC teams went 117-38 (.755) and that attainment helped launch a move into coaching the NBA's Cincinnati Royals.

Boston traded Cousy to Cincinnati for Bill Dinwiddie in 1969, when he briefly returned to playing. He appeared in seven games as player-coach for the Royals during the 1969-70 season and coached the team that entire campaign through 22 games into the 1973-74 season – the team's second as the Kansas City-Omaha Kings.

Cousy became the first Vice-President and trustee of the Basketball Hall of Fame and later became the first Hall member to serve as President (May, 1989). He was Commissioner of the American Soccer League from 1975-1980. In 1993, Cousy appeared in the movie "Blue Chips"; released the following year, the flick also starred the Orlando Magic's Shaquille O'Neal and veteran actor Nick Nolte.

Robert Joseph Cousy (8/9/28), and his wife Missy, live in Worcester, MA.

Before playing at Pittsburgh, Willard spent his freshman season at Western Kentucky University. He appeared in 27 of 31 games as a freshman and sank over 40 percent of his three-point field goal attempts.

The Bowling Green, KY native finished off a very successful high school career by garnering second team All-State honors as a senior in the basketball-crazed state of Kentucky. In three seasons at Bowling Green High School, Willard's teams went 76-15.

Willard graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in 1997 with a dual degree in Communications and Economics. His father, Ralph Willard, is currently the men's head basketball coach at Holy Cross.

Papile was named Head Scout by President/Head Coach Rick Pitino on May 8, 1997 and his duties include evaluating basketball players at all levels including the NBA, CBA, European and other international leagues, colleges, AAU programs and high schools.

Prior to joining the Celtics, Papile focused his efforts on building one of the nation's most prestigious amateur basketball programs. For the past 22 years, he's coached Boston's youths in the Boston Amateur Basketball Club (BABC), teaching them the game and helping direct the program. Having founded the organization in 1977, the Boston native has special ties to the BABC and has seen current NBA stars like Patrick Ewing and Dana Barros develop their basketball skills as a member of the club. Along with handling his Head Scout duties, he will continue to serve as the director and a coach of the BABC.

Papile has a long list of coaching credits at all levels of the game. His keen eye for talent and tremendous teaching skills have been acquired from years of working with professional, college and amateur athletes. From 1984-87, he was part of the coaching staff at Cleveland State University. During the 1986-87 season he was promoted from an Assistant to Associate Head Coach, and was part of a team which upset Indiana in the NCAA tournament and advanced to the Regional Final before bowing out to David Robinson's Navy team.

Before taking the job at Cleveland State, Papile spent one season as the head man for Umana Technical High School in Boston.

Dealing with high school kids was a change from his previous coaching stint from 1981-83. During that time, he served as both the Head Coach and General Manager for the Maine Lumberjacks of the CBA. While with the Lumberjacks, Papile matched wits with the likes of future NBA coaches Phil Jackson and George Karl.

Prior to jumping into professional basketball and the CBA, Papile spent time at the college level with Boston University. He served as an Assistant from 1979-81 at Boston University under Rick Pitino. The job with the Terriers and Pitino was preceded by a year as an Assistant at Suffolk University from 1978-79.

Along his basketball travels, Papile has been a part of some basketball history. From 1977-78, he served as the Head Coach and General Manager for the Quincy Chiefs of the Eastern Basketball League. sports authority training center

The Boston Celtics will practice at The Sports Authority Training Center at HealthPoint, the new 140,000-square-foot wellness and fitness center in Waltham, MA. HealthPoint, which opened in the Spring of 1999, houses a full-service, state-of-the-art wellness and fitness center, medical office building, along with the Celtics' new training site.

The Sports Authority Training Center at HealthPoint features an expanded basketball court, locker rooms with spa amenities, training room, strength and conditioning area, meeting rooms and offices, a Celtics Hall of Fame and Wall of Fame, and media briefing areas. With such a training center, the Boston Celtics will be able to provide their athletes and coaches a unique and productive atmosphere in which to practice, work and train.

"The Boston Celtics are very fortunate to have a first-class facility to work and train in," said Celtics President/Head Coach Rick Pitino. "The center signifies a big step forward for the Celtics in the care, training and rehabilitation of our athletes, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. This wonderful facility will meet and exceed the high standards set forth in the proud and rich tradition of the Boston Celtics."

Developed by CareGroup, together with two of its founding hospitals, New England Baptist Hospital and Deaconess-Waltham Hospital, and TBG Development of St. Louis, the center will be the first hospital-affiliated, medically based wellness and fitness center in the Boston area. The venture also puts these partners at the forefront of a trend to bring sports, fitness and medicine together.

The new facility is located on Winter Street in Waltham, providing easy access not only to residents of Waltham and surrounding towns, but to others who work or live along the Route 128 belt. The wellness and fitness center is open to the public for use.

PRACTICE INFORMATION

All Celtics practice sessions are closed to the media, except for the final 15 minutes. All media interviews will be conducted after each practice. Practice times are subject to change. Only accredited media will be allowed to attend Celtics' practices, as all practices are closed to the general public. The Celtics will usually hold practice at The Sports Authority Training Center at HealthPoint in Waltham, MA. The facility is a new 139,000-square-foot health and wellness center. Boston may also utilize the FleetCenter on occasion for practice. On the day of a game, the shootaround will be closed, and a 15-minute media interview availability time will be held after each session. Directions to The Sports Authority Training Center at HealthPoint from Boston: Take the Mass Pike (Route 90 West), go to the second set of toll booths at Weston, MA. Follow signs for Route 128 North. Travel approximately five miles to Exit 27B (Winter Street). Bear right off the ramp, travel two miles, and follow signs to the facility. Please enter the facility through the main entrance for HealthPoint. Both the Celtics Hall of Fame Room and Healthpoint mezzanine are available work and waiting areas. Photographers & Videographers: Practices are closed to all video and still photographers, except for the final 15 minutes which will be open for B-Roll. Players and coaches will be available for the taping of interviews at the conclusion of practice. Additionally, the coaches' office, the training room, the weight room, the back hallway, and the locker room are off limits to the media at all times.

SEASON CREDENTIALS

The Celtics will issue full season credentials, which will be limited to the working media that have covered 75% or more of our home games in past years. For those media members who receive this pass, your photo will accompany it. Be advised that this pass is required at each game and must be displayed at all times.

SINGLE-GAME CREDENTIALS

Media members wishing to cover an individual home game must contact the Media Relations department at least 48 hours in advance of that game they wish to cover (or by 5:00 P.M. Friday for all weekend and Monday games). Single-game passes will be issued on a space-available basis. NBA passes are valid but the Celtics require that you also arrange for a single-game pass from the Media Relations office or staff. The credentials must be confirmed by the Celtics' Media Relations staff before admittance.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS AND TELEVISION VIDEOGRAPHERS CREDENTIALS

Season credentials will not be issued to still photographers or television videographers. For those media outlets that cover every game, but with different personnel, one pass will be available at the press gate for each game. For example, if the Daily Planet has a photographer position, there will be one pass marked "Daily Planet Photographer" left for pick-up, upon presentation of proper identification, at the press gate for each game. Credentialed photographers must sit at their designated location at the baseline. Photographers will not be allowed to sit on the sidelines at the FleetCenter, as any area not specified as space for photographers is off limits. No photography of any Celtics' game shall be released to any individual other than the entity for whom the pass was issued and subject to the rules governing such use as described on the reverse side of the credential. Any violation to this policy will result in forfeiture of future credentials. Single game photographer and videographer credentials will be issued on a space available basis. No photographer or videographer is allowed to sit in the three-foot escape lanes, located on both sides of both basket stanchions. All working cameras must have a rubber lens shade per NBA policy.

Three videographer passes per local television outlet will be available at the press gate for either pre-game or post-game sound.

PRESS GATE ENTRANCE

The press gate is located on the east side of the FleetCenter on New Accalton Way. The press gate will open two hours prior to game-time. Celtics' season credentials will not allow access to any event in the FleetCenter other than a Celtics' game.

PRESS ROOM

The press room consists of the dining facility and the working press area and is located on level three of the FleetCenter. After entering the building through the press entrance, proceed to the elevator to level three and the press room is straight ahead. Proper credentials are needed for admittance and a pregame meal. Food and beverage service will become available two hours prior to game time. We ask that professional and courteous consideration be given to the media who are working each game in the work areas.

media information

SEATING

Media will be assigned seats at either courtside tables, end zone seat tables, or in the main upper press box (level nine). Media members are encouraged to write from all of these locations due to space restrictions in the working area of the press room. The Media Relations department will have the final say in all seating arrangements. We ask that you do not switch assigned seats; the Media Relations staff will coordinate any changes. The quarter play-by-play sheets and halftime box scores are distributed as quickly as possible to all locations and Stat Man monitors are available in selected locales.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS

The locker rooms are located on level three of the FleetCenter (court level), down the corridor from the press room. Season credentials will have locker room access. Single-game passes will have locker room access but must have the locker room access portion of the press pass attached to the pass to allow for locker room entry. NBA media regulations govern the accessibility to the locker rooms prior to games. In accordance with NBA policy, both the Celtics' and visitors' locker rooms will be closed 45 minutes prior to game time and will re-open 10 minutes after the game. No autographs are allowed during media access periods. Still photographers will not be permitted in any locker room.

POST-GAME COACHES INTERVIEW ROOM

Approximately 10 minutes after each game, Coach Pitino will be conduct his post-game press conference in Locker Room 3, which is adjacent to the Celtics locker room.

PRACTICES AT THE FLEETCENTER

Access to any Celtics' practice held at the FleetCenter is through the same press gate entrance as on game nights. Season credentials will give you access to these practices as well. Those media members without season credentials should call the Media Relations office the day before a practice to be properly admitted.

FLEETCENTER PARKING

There is no reserved parking for a Celtics' game. There is a five-level, 1,150-space underground parking garage located directly under the FleetCenter and North Station. The parking lot is accessed via Nashua Street. Additionally, there is some parking available in the immediate area of the FleetCenter.

AUTOGRAPHS

All requests for autographs for any team personnel must be directed to the Celtics' Community Relations Department. No autographs are allowed during media access periods.

VISITORS

There is no standing room in the FleetCenter. All entrants to the building must have either a ticket to the game or a prearranged assigned seat.

PLAYER WARMUPS

The playing floor is off-limits to media personnel during pregame warmups. Players are available for interviews in the locker room during the accessed period. Television and radio interviews may be arranged through the Celtics' Media Relations department, subject to timing and availability. Pregame media interviews requests made well in advance is strongly recommended.

MIKE GORMAN — Play-By-Play, TV

Boston Celtics' fans have been blessed with a fabulous tradition on the court and that excellence has trickled through to the broadcasting booth where Mike Gorman, an incisive play-by-play man with a wealth of basketball knowledge, begins his 17th year with the Celtics. His experience in broadcasting is extensive. Formerly, the Sports Director at WPRI-TV in Providence, Mike also served as the voice of the University of Rhode Island on WPRO-Radio. Gorman later handled the play-by-play duties on television for the Providence Friars.

He was the team's most proficient playoff scorer during successful championship drives in 1957, 1960, 1961, and 1963. He averaged 18.6 points and 8.8 rebounds in 654 regular season contests and 19.8 points and 9.2 boards in 104 post-season encounters. Heinsohn was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1985-86.

Four years after his retirement as a player, Tom was appointed the Head Coach of the Celtics. Like his playing career, Heinsohn's coaching tenure was punctuated by prosperity, as he directed the 1974 and 1976 squads to World Championship titles, won Atlantic Division crowns five times, was picked the league's Coach of the Year in 1973, and collected a 427-263 (.619) regular season record and a 47-33 (.588) playoff mark.

CEDRIC MAXWELL — Color Commentary, Radio

Cedric Maxwell was the perfect complement to Boston Celtics' teams that won five division titles in six seasons from 1980-1985. An engaging personality who was as magnetic as any who donned the team's uniform, Max was a deadly offensive low-post player who doubled as an equally tenacious defender; he led the NBA in field goal percentage in 1979 and 1980 and often had the task of stopping the likes of Julius Erving, Jamaal Wilkes, and Marques Johnson when those players were at the pinnacle of their games.

Max will be forever recognized as the MVP of the 1981 NBA Finals as he led the Celtics past Houston for the team's thirteenth NBA Championship. In the six games against the Rockets, he averaged 17.7 points and 9.2 rebounds and grabbed 34 offensive rebounds; additionally, he shot .568 (42-74) from the floor. Overall, in the 1981 NBA Playoffs, he compiled 16.1 points and 7.4 rebounds in 35.2 minutes, shot .580 (101-174) from the field, and started all 17 games. He was also a key contributor with the 1984 World Champs, which edged the Los Angeles Lakers in seven games.

The well-liked Max developed an immediate following among Celtics fans as he was one of the few bright spots in the 1977-78 and 1978-79 seasons. In 1978-79, he averaged a career-high 19.0 points and the following season he led the NBA with a 60.9% field goal percentage which remains a Celtics' record. Max also holds team marks for most free throws made (574) and attempted (716) in a season in 1978-79.

Maxwell played in 835 regular season games (607 with Boston) and 102 post-season contests (88 with the Celtics). He shot .559 (2,786-4,984) from the floor, went to the line 4,592 times, and made 3,598 of those shots (.784). He also started all 68 of Boston's post-season affairs from 1980-1984. After the 1985 season, he was traded to the Los Angeles Clippers, with a 1986 first-round draft choice, for Bill Walton. His playing career ended with the Rockets after the 1987-88 campaign.

Maxwell was a college basketball color analyst for Raycom Sports covering the Metro Conference prior to his current broadcasting role. In the summer of 1996, he coached the Long Island Surf of the United States Basketball League. Maxwell currently owns his own clothing business to go along with his broadcast duties.

Cedric Bryan Maxwell (11/21/55) was born in Kinston, NC and attended that city's high school. He has a degree in Black Literature and Geography from UNCC, and was inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 1998. Cedric has four children, Shemeka, Morgan, Madison and Devin.

NBA COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The NBA believes in championship performances, both on the court and in the community. That's why each year, the league, its teams and players dedicate time and resources to helping their respective communities through extensive outreach programs, team foundations and public service announcements, all addressing a variety of important social issues.

This year, the league will continue to focus on serving the needs and recognizing the accomplishments of young people through a series of initiatives that focus on issues such as volunteerism, youth literacy, child abuse prevention and sportsmanship.

Now in its fourth year, the NBA TeamUp Program aims to build self-esteem and leadership skills by encouraging students to volunteer to improve their communities. With the involvement of all 29 NBA teams, the initiative has provided more than 100,000 youth with service opportunities and has recognized more than 40,000 for their outstanding dedication to volunteerism. The league and its players also generate awareness for the issue through a public service campaign and television specials that reach tens of millions of viewers each year.

The NBA continues to demonstrate its commitment to youth service through a partnership with America's Promise: The Alliance For Youth, led by General Colin Powell. This year, the NBA also joined forces with Youth Service America, a resource center and alliance of organizations committed to community and national service.

In 1995, the NBA partnered with Reading Is Fundamental (RIF), the leading nonprofit youth literacy organization in the United States, to ensure that today's young people have the necessary resources to become successful readers. This year's outreach will include the continuation of the successful "March is NBA Reading Month" campaign, which includes reading incentive programs, reading "Timeouts" with NBA players and staff, and book distributions. A series of PSAs featuring NBA players, and focusing on the fun and fundamentals of reading, supports the initiative.

Implemented in conjunction with the National Federation of State High Schools Associations and the Canadian School Sports Federation, the NBA/WNBA Sportsmanship Initiative aims to foster on-court sportsmanship in amateur and professional basketball competition. The program includes the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards, a certificate program that rewards high school athletes and coaches who demonstrate sportsmanship, and a public service campaign featuring NBA and WNBA players.

In addition, the NBA supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, the King Holiday, Black History Month, Gollaudet University and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

fewest/lowest team performances

All records are regular season only, and do not include those games played before the inception of the 24-second shot clock in 1954-55. Due to incomplete information, some records are left as unofficial; in these instances, highest and lowest possibilities are noted based on NBA records (for example, Boston's best 3rd quarter output is listed as 49 but could be as high as 50 or as low as another 49). These extremes are factual due to various research.

celtics history

The year it all began was 1946.

June 6, 1946 marked the birth of the Boston Celtics and the beginning of the Basketball Association of America, now known as the National Basketball Association. Eleven franchises in two divisions comprised the new league. (50 years later only the Boston Celtics and the New York Knickerbockers remain the two original franchises still playing in the same city with the same team name that they started with.)

The Boston Celtics founder and first leader was Walter Brown. He was a hockey man who fell in love with basketball. Brown headed the Boston Garden Arena Corporation in 1946 and he wanted another sport to complement hockey (and to fill seats in his arena during the long winter months). Thus, the Celtics and professional basketball in the city of Boston had arrived.

Brown also named the team. Various nicknames were batted around, including Whirlwinds, Olympics and Unicorns. But Brown declared, the Boston Celtics! "The name has a great basketball tradition from the old Original Celtics in New York (1914-1939). And, Boston is full of Irishmen," said Brown.

With the team name in place, Brown and his team needed a place to play their games. During the first season in 1946-47, the Celtics played seven of their 30 home games at the Boston Arena and the remainder at the famous Boston Garden. (The Boston Garden was not built for either hockey or basketball but for boxing in 1928.) And when one thinks of the Boston Garden, the parquet floor comes to mind.

Brown had the floor built from oak scraps crosscut from a forest in Tennessee for a cost of about $11,000 (which had to be manufactured this way because of a shortage of materials following World War II). This shortage caused floormaker Tony DiNatale to construct the floor from the scraps by fitting them into a unique and distinctive pattern which is famous today. (The parquet floor has 247 panels that are held together with 988 bolts.) The parquet floor still exists today in the new home of the Celtics, the FleetCenter.

Walter Brown had dreams of championship glory elude him during the first four years of his ownership. The Celtics struggled with an 89-147 record. In 1950, everything would change.

Brown's dream of winning championships became a reality with the hiring of a 32-year old brash, firebrand of a head coach who settled for nothing less than excellence. That head coach was Arnold 'Red' Auerbach.

In Auerbach's first year, the Celtics went 39-30, a big turnaround from the 22-46 1949-50 season record. Auerbach had drafted Bob Cousy and Chuck Cooper, the NBA's first black player, and the team was off and running. And in 1951, Auerbach added Bill Sherman to join Cousy in the backcourt.

The Celtics were scoring a lot of points, and having winning seasons, but no championships (from 1950-56) until Brown and Auerbach got Bill Russell in 1956. Of Russell, Auerbach stated, "We needed a big defender. I felt pretty sure Russell was that kind of player. Not everyone in the NBA was high on him because he couldn't score. But I wanted him."

celtics history

Walter Brown and Red Auerbach introduced fans to the excitement of fast break basketball. They personified the word team, with each player filling a role that contributed to victory after victory. With names like Cousy, Sharman, Russell, Tom Heinsohn, Frank Ramsey, Tom 'Satch' Sanders, Sam and K.C. Jones, basketball excellence was defined and a dynasty created.

From 1956-57 to 1965-66, Auerbach's teams won 9 world championship titles, including 8 in succession from 1959 to 1966. Before leaving the coaching duties behind to concentrate on his responsibilities as General Manager, Auerbach compiled an incredible record of 938-479 (.662) in regular season play and an equally impressive 99-49 (.589) playoff record.

Russell followed Auerbach as head coach in 1966-67. As player-coach, Russell led the Celtics to two more world championship titles in 1967-68 and 1968-69, and in 1969-70 another former player would assume the helm — Tom Heinsohn.

Heinsohn would coach the Celtics for 8+ seasons and, led by John Havlicek, Dave Cowens and Jo Jo White, Boston would claim two more championship titles in 1974 and 1976.

The torch would be passed to new legends as the 1980's arrived. Larry Bird, Robert Parish, Kevin McHale, Cedric Maxwell, Nate 'Tiny' Archibald, Chris Ford, Dennis Johnson, M.L. Carr, Danny Ainge and Bill Walton, along with the coaching of Bill Fitch and K.C. Jones, would bring the Celtics back to the championship level by capturing world titles in 1981, 1984 and 1986.

In conclusion, the Boston Celtics have received an unprecedented 76 title banners over the first 50 years — 16 NBA World Championship banners, 17 regular season titles (best record in the regular season), 19 conference titles and 24 division titles. In addition, 21 Celtics' players, management or staff have had the distinct honor of having either name or number retired to the FleetCenter rafters. Furthermore, 24 former Celtics' players, management or staff members have been deservedly enshrined in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA.

The history of the Boston Celtics would not be complete if a mention of the Celtics' fans were not included. Celtics' fans, the most steadfast and loyal in all sports, are unwavering in their support and take rightful pride in being an integral part of the Celtics' family. Larry Bird once said, "Celtics' fans know when you are dogging it or giving your all. They are that smart and they appreciate hard work and 110% effort all the time."

The burning pride and mystique that is the Boston Celtics continues today in the ownership with Paul Gaston, management under the leadership of President and Head Coach Rick Pitino and General Manager Chris Wallace, and a team that is dedicated to adding to the 16 NBA World Championship banners that proudly hang above the celebrated parquet floor in the FleetCenter.

"HEROES AMONG US"

New England is home to many individuals who have made an overwhelming impact on our community by positively affecting the lives of others. At each home game, Boston Celtics captain Antoine Walker and the opposing team's captain salute the "Heroes Among Us" for their courage, achievements, and invaluable contributions to society.

Our honorees represent all ages and walks of life — educators, medical personnel, business leaders, clergy, public service employees, and even Nobel Prize winners.

To date, 67 individuals have been honored as "Heroes Among Us."

A cornerstone of our community outreach efforts, we are so proud to continue this program into its third season.

"Their success is our success. Touching one life or many is a gift we can all give. We hope our heroes' exemplary efforts, social conscience, and commitment to others is contagious."

— Rick Pitino
Boston Celtics President/Head Coach
